

Congratulations to Rachel Small on Her Appointment to the Women in Defense National Advisory Board

Yormick Law is proud to congratulate Rachel Small on her appointment to the 2027 Women in Defense (WID) National Advisory Board.

Women in Defense, an affiliate of the National Defense Industrial Association (NDIA), is a leading organization dedicated to advancing professionals across the national security and defense community. Rachel's appointment recognizes her leadership, industry knowledge, and commitment to supporting the defense sector.

Rachel's service on the National Advisory Board reflects the same dedication and excellence she brings to our clients every day. We are honored to have her representing both our firm and the broader defense community in this important leadership role.

Please join us in congratulating Rachel on this well-deserved achievement. We look forward to seeing the positive impact she will make in her new role.

Attorney Advertising

This Firm News and the events referenced above are provided for informational purposes only and is not intended to serve as, or provide, legal advice relating to a particular matter.

© 2026 Yormick Law LLC. All rights reserved.